

PG Exhibits Wins BMA Colorado Gold Key, Silver Key and Best Production Awards

Denver, CO, April 27, 2009 – PG Exhibits, a Denver, CO-area based exhibit marketing solutions company, was honored with three Business Marketing Association awards for trade show environments. PG Exhibits was presented a Gold Key Award and Best Production Award for Skins USA Inc. "Beyond Reason" trade show environment in the category of Trade Show Displays, Large Exhibit. Also in the same category, PG Exhibits won a Silver Key Award for Jan Marini Skin Research.

Awards were presented at the BMA's Colorado Chapter annual Gold Key Awards ceremony held April 24th at the Curtis Ballroom in Denver. Considered one of Colorado's most highly acclaimed marketing competitions, the BMA awards recognize outstanding achievements in business-to-business marketing, advertising and communications.

"I couldn't be happier for our clients who won, as well as for our design and production staff who create and bring to life such outstanding exhibits time and time again" says James McGrath, President of PG Exhibits.

The Skins USA 20' x 30' trade show environment features interactive displays demonstrating Skins™ unique BioAcceleration Technology™ and innovation in performance equipment. Audience attention is captured through use of the Skins bold branding and identity featuring super sized graphics and images with attitude.

Skins USA, Inc., located in Boulder, CO, is a manufacturer of gradient compression performance equipment. Skins™ are worn by professional athletes and active consumers worldwide including, cyclists, runners, triathletes, to name but a few. Skins™ BioAcceleration Technology™ enhances performance in training, competition & recovery, giving athletic competitors an edge over their competition. The 20' x 40' exhibit created for Jan Marini has an exciting new look through its significant stature and clean architectural shapes. It feels like a boutique store and conveys a clinical, clean approach to marketing cosmetics; the white exterior finish of the booth further aids in the clinical appeal of the exhibit. The trade show environment facilitates large numbers of attendees while also providing semi-private meeting spaces allowing for more in depth conversations with the physicians.

San Jose, CA-based Jan Marini Skin Research, Inc., was founded in 1994 by noted skin care researcher and glycolic acid pioneer Jan Marini. Jan has formed associations with some of the world's leading physicians and research scientists to develop cutting-edge, medically-based skin care preparations and is a world-renowned power in the beauty industry with employees across the country and distributors around the world.
