

PG Exhibits Expands to Serve Market Demand Local Exhibit Company Opens Operation in Las Vegas, Nevada

Denver, Colorado – June 15, 2006 - PG Exhibits, an award-winning leader in 3D exhibit design and logistics management today announced the hire of industry veteran Mimi Peckham to head their expansion to serve the Las Vegas, Nevada market.

PG Exhibits hired seasoned industry veteran Mimi Peckham to serve as Managing Director in charge of Las Vegas' sales and operations. Ms. Peckham brings with her 14 plus years of industry experience and new business development. Ms. Peckham started her career in account coordination for Giltspur and held a sales position at Derse Exhibits. Her list of previous clients served include: Xerox, Pergo, Itron, Fisher & Paykel and PotBelly Sandwich Works.

"Over the last three and a half years we've made strategic investments in our operations to position us for entry into new markets" said Jim McGrath, president of PG Exhibits. "We are considering expansion into several key markets over the next five years. The hire of Mimi Peckham to grow our Las Vegas operations fit nicely into our growth and expansion strategy...serving the right markets at the right price point with the right services and talent."

Under the guidance of Ms. Peckham, PG Exhibits is projecting Las Vegas will contribute an additional 20% in revenue over 2005.

"At this stage in my career, I was looking for an organization where my contributions would make a measurable impact. Serving as managing director for the Las Vegas branch will allow me the opportunity to positively contribute to PG Exhibits growth," said Mimi Peckham, managing director of PG Exhibits' Las Vegas operations. "PG Exhibits' commitment to delivering value and award winning creative will be key factors in the success of this expansion. The team collaboration, support system and services operation built by Jim McGrath over the past few years will serve Las Vegas well."
